

Total Security Summit

Proven to be a fast track to business

20th & 21st September 2010, Park Inn, Heathrow, London

Selective and productive for suppliers.

Limiting the number of suppliers offers a far greater opportunity to develop valuable contacts and business prospects, as sector representation is restricted to ensure product diversity and a distinctly competitive edge for supporting suppliers.

Serious buyers.

We've done all the hard work so you don't have to. We source & pre-qualify all attending delegates ensuring they have a minimum security budget and forthcoming projects or contract requirements. You know in advance what products/services they are interested in discussing at the Summit and how many sites they are responsible for. Their commitment is reflected in the fact that they acknowledge a fee should they cancel their attendance within 28 days of the event.

A 'win-win' scenario.

Your success is our prime objective; therefore prior to the event you are sent detailed information about each delegate, enabling you to identify those with whom you would like a scheduled meeting. At the same time delegates receive company profiles of each attending supplier, allowing them to select those suppliers with whom they wish to meet. From this combined information we then create your personalised itinerary of 30 minute, face to face meetings.

The Total Security Summit puts you face to face with potential clients who wish to discuss your security solutions.

More than just meetings!

Throughout the event there are numerous networking opportunities as all attendees are resident at the hotel; these include a gala dinner with first class entertainment, allowing introductions to even more of the delegates. In addition, you can meet with a delegate over breakfast or lunch making the most of this captive audience.

The Venue.

Taking place at the sensational Park Inn, Heathrow London.

All Inclusive.

We provide a privately screened meeting booth with furniture and electrics at which each of your scheduled meetings takes place. We strongly recommend that you have two senior representatives at the event to maximise your time effectively.

Cost includes:

- Individual accommodation for two representatives.
- Meals & refreshments throughout the event.
- Personalised meeting schedule.

Our award winning events are, the way most time starved business people, say they prefer to meet and discuss their requirements

"An extremely well organised and focused event, Thank you" Control Risks

For details of availability and cost please contact Gayle Buckland Tel:- 01992 374100

Official media partners

Presented by

