Your Education Partners

The Security Institute and Perpetuity Training work closely to deliver training within the Security Profession.

The Security Institute is the largest association for security professionals in the UK, offering networking, news and events, distance learning & qualifications, career support, and a unique validation of experience much valued by employers and clients.

Perpetuity Training is the foremost provider of security management training in the UK and has a unique background in security research, education and qualification.

Your Certificate Programme

So, you're now in a supervisory role or junior management role; how can you equip yourself for this? How about a distance learning course where you can qualify without having to travel for training or assessments? The course takes 6 months to complete and we recruit throughout the year. You will study 6 modules in total, 3 mandatory and 3 of your choice.

You complete each module by submitting an assignment made up of multiple choice and short answer questions.

3 Mandatory Modules

- English or Irish Law
- Management
- Fire Prevention, Health & Safety

Choose 3 More From:

- Security of Corporate Assets
- Protection of Persons, Equipment, Information & Goods
- Emergency Situations
- Practical Retail Security
- Security Orientated Law for Retail
- Information Security
- Counter Terrorism

* Overseas students may choose not to study law

Whilst you are studying, you can be assured that you will be supported every step of the way. All our tutors are members of the Security Institute and hold Masters degrees in Security Management.

The Tutors

Ken Livingstone

Ken served as an officer in the Royal Military Police before gaining an MSc in Security Management and Information Technology at the University of Leicester. He later directed the Scarman Centre's degree courses in security management, before leaving to direct Loughborough University's security management courses. On return to the Scarman Centre he was appointed Assistant Director. Ken is a Fellow and Board Member of the Security Institute, and sits on the Editorial Board of the Security Journal, and is a visiting lecturer at the University of Leicester.

Charlie Swanson

Charlie served 22 years in the Royal Military Police and holds an MSc in Security Management and IT. His specialist areas include security surveying, electronic systems, health & safety and delivering learning. Charlie is studying his Master of Letters in terrorism at St Andrews. Charlie is a Fellow of the Security Institute and also sits on the Academic Board of The Security Institute.

About Your Qualification

The Certificate, which is accredited to a BTEC level 3 Advanced Certificate, is internationally recognised and qualifies you for Associate membership of the Security Institute (subject to application & validation). The certificate is specifically targeted to those who aspire to leadership/management levels within the security industry and many students go on to achieve a Diploma and/or Degree.

Counter Terrorism Module

The millennium security world demands focus on the global terrorism threat. The module covers issues such as :

Terrorist Ideology – State Terrorism – Understanding the Attack Plan
Communicating Risk – Assets Versus Vulnerability

No security professional today can confidently deliver without this knowledge and skill.

What Students Say :

James Attridge “It has given me the ideal opportunity to gain some really valuable academic and technical security knowledge whilst continuing to work. The literature provided was superb, giving a significant amount of detail behind many of the key principles of Security Management. The coursework wasn’t overpowering and can easily be completed whilst managing a busy full time job. The course was a great starting place and I cannot wait to move onto the Syl Diploma in Security Management.”

Perin Bhatt Asyl “I took the course to give me an insight into security, the roles and responsibilities to be taken as a Security Manager and also to receive a recognised qualification by Edexcel to show off my achievement. It has opened opportunities for me to apply for jobs where in the past I couldn’t because I didn’t have the required qualification... but I do now.”
